Hard Luck Okie

http://memory.loc.gov/afc/afcts/audio/513/5130a1.mp3

Format: Sound Recordings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>OBSERVE</th>
<th>REFLECT</th>
<th>QUESTION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Describe what you hear. Can you understand what the voice is saying? What type of a recording is this - conversation, interview, reading? What other details can you hear?</td>
<td>What was the purpose of this recording? Who was the speaker? Who was the audience? What was happening at the time it was recorded? What can you learn from listening to this recording?</td>
<td>What do you wonder about? Why? What? Where? When? Any Bloom's Q?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

FURTHER INVESTIGATION

What more do you want to know and how can you find out?

Follow-up:
- Rewrite the recording in your own words.
- Reflect on what you thought was the purpose of the recording. Do you think it accomplished this goal? Research to find out and report. Support your answer.
- Think about what you already know about this period in history. How does this recording support or contradict your current understanding of the period? Support your answer.